WHAT ARE THE ADVANTAGE OF DIY 4×4 DRAWER SYSTEMS?

A photograph of a person in a field with a dog and a swan. The person is standing in a shallow, muddy area, possibly a marsh or a field with standing water. A black dog is standing near the person. A swan is also visible in the water. In the background, there is a large field of tall, dry grass or reeds. In the foreground, the rear of a dark-colored vehicle is visible, including the trunk and a wheel. The overall scene suggests a rural or outdoor setting, possibly related to hunting or wildlife management.

Of course, camping necessitates a lot of stuff, which is usually not an issue with such a large vehicle, but it may become a little tight when you're trying to fit yourself, your family, your pet and all of your belongings in there. Do you really want to add a trailer to all of that? You could have two on the roof bars, and your bicycles are tied to a frame in the back; do you really want to add a trailer to all of that? If you're up for a challenge and would rather Build your own 4×4 drawer systems.
